That strike at Cleveland is proving a costly affair, in more ways than one.

A UNIVERSAL boycott of trust goods would smash the combine in short order. The people have just as much right to do up the trusts as the trusts have "to hold them up."

You don't hear of any strikes at the Proctor & Gamble soap works near Cincinnati. Wednesday the firm declared its twelfth semi-annual dividend of 12 per cent. for the employees. Over $11,000 will be distributed among the employees, and Saturday they will be given an excursion on the Island Queen and an outing at Coney Island.

With Senator Deboe as Chairman our committee would have instant recognition at the hands of the national body, and valuable legitimate assistance which might not otherwise be obtained. I should say that the party would be fortunate if Senator Deboe would take this important place.

Congressman Pugh went down to Louisville a few days ago and got off the above on the eve of the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee. The Republican leaders, however, didn't value Mr. Pugh's opinion very highly, as Senator Deboe was turned down.

Death of Mrs. Ann Boulden.

Mrs. Ann Boulden, of Charlotte County, Va., mother of Mrs. Scott Osborne and Mr. John Boulden, of Tuckahoe, died at her home on Saturday, July 15th inst. On the Saturday previous to the death of this estimable lady she fell and dislocated her hip. She was also a sufferer from heart trouble, which was the immediate cause of her death. Upon receipt of the intelligence of the accident of their mother, Mrs. Osborne and Mr. Boulden, as stated in the BULLETIN, left for her home. She retained consciousness until they reached her bedside and recognized and conversed with both of them. In a few hours after their arrival she passed into a comatose state and died as above stated. She was in her eighty-third year and was highly respected in her community.

PITHY POLITICAL POINTS.

Mr. Bryan is still a good man to use against the golden and Republicans, and he's just the one they are the most afraid of.

Mr. Goebel is the right man in the right place for true blue Democrats, although he mayn't suit shysters, time-servers, mongrels and the like.

Mr. Bryan isn't nearly such a "back number" as the golden and Republicans could wish. Indeed the wish is father to the thought, as is so often the case in many matters.

As trusts may only be put down by putting silver up, so silver will come in for a larger share of consideration at the next Democratic convention than opposition to trusts or anything else.

The silver issue isn't a dead one any more than Mr. Bryan is the "dead duck" that the Republicans and gold people would have us believe. The fact that they are both very much in evidence will explain the rumpus the above named gentry are kicking up.

A cow belonging to Mr. Fred Zweigart was run over and killed Thursday afternoon by a C. and O. freight train.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c. a bottle at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store.

$14,000,000.

That's the Amount of the Tin Plate Trust's Extra Profit.

Under the Protective Rates of the Republicans' Dingley Tariff Law—No Need of Protection.

ANDERSON, IND., July 26.—Last week it was announced that the Tin Plate trust had advanced the wages of its 19,000 workers 15 per cent., and after but two weeks' summer shut-down had opened the plants to give the workers another full year of steady, remunerative employment.

Simultaneous with the orders received by the Indiana managers to restart the plants and advance the wages of the skilled workers—but 7,000 of the total 19,000 workers—15 per cent., another order was received which advances the price of tin plate from $3.78 a box to $4.37.

The trust, which now has such a complete corner on the industry in this country, came into life last November—just after the fall elections. When it assumed control of the markets tin plate was selling at $2.65. Since then wages have been advanced 15 per cent.; prices to the consumer have advanced $1.62. On the output of American factories at present, which runs about $47,000,000 on a four-dollar-a-box basis, the trust has advanced prices to the extent of $14,000,000 in seven months. The advance in wage, which only covers the skilled workers, will run about $500,000. The common laborers are working at the same wages they received a year ago.

The Tin Plate trust was not formally organized for several months after the preliminary organization began to affect the markets. When it took hold a little over one year ago tin plate was quoted in markets as low $2.25. The trust has thus advanced it a little over $2 on the box within a year.

The high protective tariff which the trust secured in the Dingley bill amounts to just $2 a box. This $2 the trust has changed to a tithe to the concentration of monopoly.

The tin plate industry was established as a political bugaboo. The first plant in the nation—at Elwood, this county—was erected out of the Republican campaign fund. Up to the time of the enactment of the Wilson low tariff measure the industry was nothing more than a political makeshift.

During the operation of the Wilson bill it developed into one of the great industries of the nation. When in November, 1896, the Republicans again assumed control they found the "infant industry" had under the low tariff regime fully established itself. It had grown from two or three concerns to thirty-seven different plants, with a total of 272 mills. All manufacturers were making money, men were employed night and day, wages were increasing and the price of tin plate had fallen from $3.50 to $2.35 a box. The statistical reports of Indiana show that the wages of the workers in this State during the Wilson tariff regime became the highest of any workers in the State—$3.33 a day. When the Republicans again gained control the biggest lobby which had to do with the drafting of the Dingley bill was organized, and the $2 a box tariff was restored to tin plate. The trust was organized, and is now saddled with dividends over $70,000,000 stock. The trust is doing what independents could not do—putting the $2 down into its coffers.

The trust now controls thirty-eight of the forty-one plants in the nation. This is 278 of the 292 mills. Practically, they control all but one plant, which only represent two mills. The other two plants, with twelve mills, are owned and operated by tinware manufacturers, who use all of their production.

One of these concerns is located in New York, the other in St. Louis. The one independent concern catering with its two mill capacity to the open markets of the country, is located in the Pittsburgh district. It can do nothing more than sell to local concerns, and the trust is attempting to cut that trade off from it by selling to those customers at lower prices than the independent can manufacture tin plate for. The tin plate is the one trust in the country that has an absolute cinch in the monopoly line.

Welsh and American manufacturers, in a position to know, say the well established American industry can now manufacture tin plate without any tariff protection and control the American markets and maintain the present high wages. The $2 a box which the tariff gives them waters the watered stock.

The citizens of Carlisle are making great preparations for the entertainment of the Bracken Association of Baptists, which will meet in that city August 2, and will be the 100th anniversary of the association. About 200 delegates are expected.

A DWELLING house in the west end of Aberdeen burned about 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. O. G. CALLAHAN, of Helena, has bought of Isaac N. Power ninety-acre farm adjoining the farm of Callahan at $40 an acre.

Rev. ROBERT TOLLE is engaged in a successful protracted meeting at Felix Chapel, near Minerva. There have been several additions.

Rev. J. W. PORTER, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is announced to preach a sermon to the K. of P.'s, at Germantown, next Sunday night.

STERLING silver spoons and forks, also fine quality silver plated knives, forks and spoons at greatly reduced prices. Good tea spoons only $1 per set; table spoons $1.50 and $2 per set of six.

MURPHY, the jeweler.

THE trustees of the Germantown school have selected the following teachers for the ensuing year: Mrs. J. S. Elliott, Principal; Miss Adgie Jolly, first assistant; Miss May Poague, second assistant. The school will open September 1st.

SHORTLY after noon Wednesday, Mr. Owen Griffith, while in town, had the misfortune to lose his coat. He came at once to the BULLETIN office and advertised for it. Yesterday it was returned to this office by Mr. William Slack, who found it on Limestone street.

Rev. B. W. HUNTSMAN, a talented young preacher of Melbourne, Australia, will speak at the Mayslick Christian Church Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Huntsman has occupied some of the leading pulpits in Kentucky and Southern Ohio. He is an interesting speaker.

MISS MARGARET BROWN, while playing Wednesday evening, had the misfortune to swallow a pin which lodged in her throat for some time and gave her considerable trouble. She was getting along fairly well this morning and will probably be all right in a few days.

SENATOR GOEBEL's friends in Covington announced Thursday that the campaign will be opened August 12 with a big mass meeting, either at Lexington or Louisville. The speakers will be William J. Bryan, ex-United States Senator Joe Blackburn and Senator Goebel.

At Clooney's you'll find silver plated spoons, teas, $1.00, tables, $1.50 per set. Everything new in jewelry and diamonds. The largest line of sterling goods to select from. And where your watch will be repaired first class, and not sent out of town to be jobbed up.

Mr. R. A. CARR is in receipt of a letter from his nephew Mr. Oliver E. Fox. The latter has returned from Porto Rico, where he officiated as Military Governor of a province for some time since the close of the Spanish war. Mr. Fox is a brother of Mr. John Fox, the noted Kentucky writer.

Drs. NINA A. STEVENS and Jessie Asbury, who have been missionaries in Tokyo, Japan, arrived at their former home at Augusta yesterday. They brought with them Misses Vato San and Tarado San, young Japanese women, who will study medicine in Cincinnati. Dr. Asbury is a daughter of Mr. H. B. Asbury, of Augusta.

The Stanford Interior-Journal vouches for this one: "A few days since, Miss Mollie, daughter of Henry Blankenship, of the Preachersville section, counted out some eggs to send to market and found out that she just lacked one of having a certain number of dozen. She lamented her inability to find one more and strange as it may seem, while the basket of eggs were sitting on a table on the porch, up flew a hen and laid an egg in it. The performance was witnessed by several reputable citizens, including the above named young lady."

River News.

Sunshine for Pomeroy to-night and Bonanza down.

This week's rains haven't had much effect on the river at Pittsburgh.

The towboat Aubrey passed up with several dump boats for Bonanza bar, near Portsmouth.

The steamer Mountaineer, which was sunk by striking a log near Charleston, W. Va., has been raised.

On the recent trip of the U. S. snagboat E. A. Woodruff, she removed 354 obstructions in the river between Pittsburgh and Slim Island.

The steamers Columbia and Argand, on the Gallipolis and Charleston run, are fighting for the trade. The Columbia threatens to carry passengers and freight free.

Captain I. N. Fleisher, of the New Haven Towboat Company, purchased the towboat Vidalia Wednesday from Captain B. B. Bradley for $2,500. She is to replace the New Haven, recently sold. Upon reaching Middleport, she will be repaired at a cost of $2,000 or $3,000. She was formerly a government boat.

An Honest Sale of Clothing.

On account of so many firms resorting to the scheme of saying they are selling out and never doing it, has caused the people to lose confidence in such sales, and who can blame them? (This is one reason we call this an honest sale). We inaugurated a system two or three years ago of selling out all our surplus stock once or twice a year, as the occasion demanded, and find while we lose quite a neat sum of money for a while, it pays us, in the end, to do it, for it keeps our stock ever fresh and clean. No old stock for us. We know by the result of our business career during the last few years that the people have not lost confidence in our sales, for they increase in volume each succeeding one. This honest sale of the best Clothing will commence the first day of August and continue during the month.
